

A light-colored, modular sofa with three cushions. The central cushion features a green and white geometric pattern, while the other two are plain light green. A small white cup and saucer with a cookie are placed on a small wooden side table in front of the sofa.

A wooden armchair with a light green fringed blanket draped over it. The chair has a simple, modern design with a curved backrest.

A black floor lamp with a single large, clear glass globe hanging from a thin black pole.

A window with sheer white curtains and a wooden blind. On the windowsill, there are several decorative items: a white vase, a small black container with a brush, and a small brown box.

A tall, thin potted tree with green leaves, standing in a large, textured, greyish-brown pot.

A round wooden tray containing several magazines or newspapers.

A tall, black, vertical radiator with a classic design, positioned against the wall.
